FIRE DESTROYS HOME

And Out Houses. Loss Estimated At $2,250. Partly Covered With Insurance.

The home of W. J. Owen & Sons, also two out houses near the home, were totally destroyed by fire last Thursday night near Glen Dean, Ky.

It is believed the fire was caused from a defective chimney in the residence. A number of pieces of furniture and several household articles were saved.

The loss is estimated at $2,250, and an insurance of $1,000 was carried on the property.

BECOMES DEPONDENT OVER ILL HEALTH

And Attempts Suicide. A Former Representative For This County.

Mr. Tice Jolly of Glen Dean, and a man of prominence in the county attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor on Sunday morning at his home. Dependancy due to ill health is said to have caused Mr. Jolly to take such desperate means, and up until Monday he still survived.

Mr. Jolly was at one time a Representative in the State Legislature for this county, and was a man popular with his friends. He was also a farmer.

FREIGHT WRECK DELAYS TRAFFIC FOR THREE DAYS

Several Trucks Fall Through Trestle Over Sugar Creek Near Stephensonport.

CLOVERPORT WITH-OUT U. S. MAIL.

For protically three days of last week, Cloverport was without the U. S. Mail Service or any train service with the exception of the Accommodation train which brought in the detoured passengers, due to a freight wreck of train No. 163 on Tuesday afternoon. The wrecked train was West bound, and as it crossed the Sugar Creek trestle near Stephensonport the trucks off of four cars broke loose and fell through the trestle leaving the cars entact on the rails.

Freight traffic was almost entirely suspended on the main line, and the passengers were detoured around over the Branch line until Friday afternoon when trains No. 144 and 145 went through as usual.

Hardinsburg Merchant Marries.

Mr. H. J. Roberts, widower and a merchant of Hardinsburg, was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle M. Deacon of Lodiburg on Feb. 9, in Louisville. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are residing in Hardinsburg where the former owns a home.

Two Breckinridge County Boys Arrive Home From France.

Roy Chapin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Chapin, and Guy Jolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jolly, both families being residents on the Cloverport and Hardinsburg Pike, arrived at their homes last Thursday evening after experiencing several months of soldiering in France.

Another county boy who will soon don civilian clothes is Simon Rowland, who is at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rowland of Hardinsburg R. R., from Camp McClellan, Ala.

CIRCUIT COURT OPENS WITH A BIG DAY MONDAY

Many Persons Throng To County Seat. Sale Of Tobacco And Live Stock is Lively.

NAMES OF THE JURORS SERVING.

The February term of Circuit Court which opened in Hardinsburg, Monday the 10th., made one of the busiest days the county seat has had for several months owing to the various hindrances which have prevented crowds or any public gatherings. Besides those persons called there either to serve on one of the Juries, or in some law-suit probably there were farmers from all parts of the county, some bringing in their tobacco to sell, others mule trading, and still others just "looking around."

The sale of tobacco was very lively, and the growers of the weed found satisfaction in the prices offered for the Burley and Prior types. One sucker type is still draggy.

Mule trading proved an interesting item of the day and drew its usual on-lookers. Mr. Vic Robertson sold 22 head of fine mules from his barn, and there were a number of other sales made too.

Court Opens.

Judge J. R. Layman of Elizabethtown was on hand to open court the first time for three terms owing to the "flu" epidemic. The Judge commissioned the Jurors and members of the Court to get down to business as soon as possible and to push things

WARNS TOBACCO RAISERS NOT TO DEPART FROM GREEN RIVER TYPE.

(From Owensboro Messenger. By B. E. Stroud, Supervisor of Tobacco Sales.)

As supervisor of sales for the Owensboro tobacco market and also as a tobacco grower, I have observed that the tobacco growers of the Green River district are retrograding somewhat from the former Green River type of tobacco. The soil in this section of the state is peculiarly adapted to this type of tobacco, and is the only section in the U. S. that grows this type, but I notice that a great many of our growers are planting a "One Sucker," and the "Greenwood," which is a cross between the "One Sucker" and some broader leaf type, which if you are not very careful in the selection of your seed plants will soon retrograde back to the narrow leaf, large fiber tobacco which is not our Green River type at all. If the "Greenwood" is properly propagated, planted early, matured well, and cut while the weather is warm, it makes a well finished product and usually sells well on the market, but if the season is not so favorable, it cures green and makes a dirty, mongrel type of tobacco. In my opinion this is largely the reason our tobacco this year is bringing unsatisfactory prices.

Proper Selection of Seed

We learn from our experience and through our agricultural colleges, that our tobacco can be propagated and improved the same as corn, wheat, and stock. And I hope the tobacco growers of the Green River district will turn their attention to the proper propagation of their tobacco by the careful selection of their seed, and soon return to the original Green River type.

Narrow-Leaf Nondescript

"We are menaced at the present time with a great percentage of narrow-leaf nondescript tobacco that has evidently been brought about by the propagation of certain narrow-leaf or Green River tobacco producing something which entirely distinct from the genuine Green River type. And as this real Green River type was rapidly becoming attractive to the manufacturers both in this country and abroad, this condition is very plainly hurtful to our section. The position that some take, that this intermingling of the types produces some very useful and high-priced manufacturing tobacco, is somewhat misleading. For example: what we know as "Greenwood" tobacco may in its incipency or just following its propagation with broad-leaf tobacco furnish some really

ELEVEN AN UNLUCKY NUMBER FOR GERMANS

According To Serg. Galloway's Story Of How The 11th F. A. Fired Last Shot On.

ELEVENTH DAY AND ELEVENTH HOUR

It was the 11th Field Artillery of the A. E. F., on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, 1918, which fired the last shot on the Germans, making eleven as unlucky for the Kaiser as thirteen is for all other superstitious human beings. Serg. Victor B. Galloway of the 11th Field Artillery, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Galloway of West View, Ky., writes a very interesting account of his Artillery which did the last firing, and of its maneuvers while overseas. Serg. Galloway was sent to France in July 1918, and was only in actual warfare less than a month, but during that time he was in the heaviest fighting and helped to give the Germans a "regular old time Hallo-we'en party."

His letter published herewith explains in detail his trip over, etc: "Villaines, France, Dec. 23, 1918. Dear Mother: I can now tell you where I have been since we left Camp Doniphon, Saturday, July 6, 1918. "We boarded the train early in the ## Burley Prices May Take Shoot Upward.

Washington, Jan. 30.—A rising market for tobacco is forecast as a result of a tobacco census made public by the census bureau today showing stocks on hand on January 1. The report is expected to be followed by a host in the price of Burley especially.

The report shows that the manufacturers and dealers have in stock 50,000,000 pounds less of Burley than they had on January 1, 1917, and 40,000,000 pounds less than on January 1, 1918. Stocks of Burley are greatly less now than at any other time during the last seven years.

"This makes it very evident," said Representative Cantrill author of the tobacco census law, "that the high prices now being paid for Burley tobacco will continue, and in fact would not be surprised at prices going still higher."

MAN FREED FROM A LARCENY CHARGE

Chas Tabeling Seeks To Care For Brother's Children And Is Mis-apprehended.

* The examining trial of Chas Tabeling of Tar Fork, who was charged with larceny, washeld in the city Police Court Thursday morning with Judge Brabandt presiding.

The plaintiff was Miss Ophelia Tabeling, 16 years old and the daughter of the late Fritz Tabeling also niece of the defendant. Miss Tabeling was accompanied to the court room by Miss Euphrasia Thompson, who was one of her witnesses.

The plaintiff's Attorney Sherman Ball stated that Mr. Tabeling was charged with larceny. Later Miss Tabeling testified that her uncle came to their home and asked for the keys to her father's trunk saying he wanted to get the money she had in it to take and place it in the bank for safe keeping, and when she and her five sisters were ready for it he would let them
